Center showcases local artists' work

The Art in Action program will showcase area artists doing their work Sundays this month at the Town Center at Levis Commons, off State Rte. 25 near the I-475/U.S. 23 interchange.

Each Sunday through Aug. 21, local artists will demonstrate their talent from 2 to 5 p.m. on the patios at the open-air mall.

The program is being coordinated by Levis Commons managers and the Perrysburg Area Arts Council.

"We're excited to offer this unique experience to our shoppers," said Casey Irons, director of marketing for Levis Commons.

"Having the community and artists embrace the program as they have brings an interactive experience to the Town Center that leads to a fun environment for everyone," he added.
